OVERVIEW

Erica Chan is an associate in the firm's Mergers and Acquisitions practice group. Her practice focuses on mergers and acquisitions, private equity investments and financings, and general corporate governance matters. Erica has represented clients in a broad range of industries, including private equity, life sciences, technology, and manufacturing.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Erica was a summer associate in the firm's New York office. During this time, Erica co-authored a client alert regarding the Basel Committee's public consultation on crypto assets, and conducted legal research on precedent proxy statements for a public company. In addition, she prepared and drafted a response to requests for admissions before a trial involving trademark dispute. Erica also reviewed and organized deposition digests, participated in phone conferences with clients and opposing counsel, and assisted with a pro bono case by preparing and drafting a family court guardianship petition. Before attending law school, Erica worked for a leading global auction house.
