OVERVIEW

Joshua Andrews is a USPTO-registered patent attorney whose practice focuses on patent and trade secret litigation. He represents clients through all stages of disputes from pre-suit investigations through discovery, claim construction, motion practice, trial, and appeal. He also challenges and defends patent validity before the US Patent and Trademark Office in Inter Partes Review and Ex Parte Reexamination proceedings, as well as on appeal at the Federal Circuit.

Drawing on experience across a broad range of technologies, Joshua has advised clients in matters involving integrated circuits, telecommunication systems, conference room solutions, lighting modules, medical diagnostic and treatment systems, and autonomous flight systems.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Joshua served as a summer associate prior to joining the firm as an associate. Through this role, Joshua prosecuted patent applications and provided support for IP litigation matters.

Additionally, Joshua gained experience as an intellectual property intern for an aviation and aeronautics research company, where he worked with engineering teams in developing invention disclosures for patent applications, engaged in communications with outside counsel, and monitored compliance for ownership rights on joint ventures involving third parties.

ADDITIONAL BACKGROUND

Prior to his legal career, Joshua was involved in a multi-year research project which involved adapting traditional remote sensing techniques to analyze and track the concentration of Harmful Algal Blooms (HABs) in the Finger Lakes Region of New York.
