

Rebekah Hill

Associate

Chicago
+1.312.807.4293

Rebekah.Hill@klgates.com

OVERVIEW

Rebekah Hill is a United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) registered patent lawyer and is a member of the IP Litigation practice group.

Rebekah's patent litigation experience includes district court cases, both supporting and in defense of patent infringement claims. She has experience in many phases of litigation, including fact and expert discovery, dispositive motion practice, and appellate brief drafting before the Federal Circuit. Her practice also includes litigations arising under the Hatch-Waxman Act.

Rebekah also has experience in drafting and prosecuting domestic and foreign patent applications, involving a variety of technologies, such as medical devices, biologics, small molecule drugs, and electronic and mechanical devices. She has experience in patentability analyses, as well as freedom-to-operate work with a focus on product development and competitor portfolio analysis.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Prior to joining the firm as an associate, Rebekah served as a summer associate.

EDUCATION

- J.D., William and Mary School of Law, 2023 (The William & Mary Law Review, Lead Online Editor)
- M.S., The Johns Hopkins University, 2023 (Biotechnology)
- B.A., Lehigh University, 2019 (Biology)

ADMISSIONS

- Bar of Illinois
- United States Patent and Trademark Office
- United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas

- United States District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin
- United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois

THOUGHT LEADERSHIP POWERED BY HUB

- 13 June 2025, First Denial Based on USPTO's New Discretionary Denial Factors
- 12 November 2024, Federal Circuit Clarifies the "Dispositive" Requirement of the Foreign Antisuit-Injunction Framework

OTHER PUBLICATIONS

- "Smart Wearables: The Overlooked and Underrated Essential Worker," The William & Mary Law Review, April 2023

AREAS OF FOCUS

- IP Litigation