OVERVIEW

Coleman Wheeler is an associate and a member of the Environment, Land, and Natural Resources practice group. Coleman assists clients on the environmental and permitting aspects of project development and transactions with a specific focus on data center development and energy infrastructure. Coleman also monitors the Pennsylvania and Georgia Public Utility Commissions for developments relevant to large load customers and hyperscalers.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Coleman graduated magna cum laude from the George Washington University Law School as a member of the Order of the Coif. While in law school, Coleman worked as a research assistant for two professors and received the Jamie Grodsky Prize for Environmental Law Scholarship. His law school work experience included judicial internships at the Lancaster Court of Common Pleas, the Court of Federal Claims, and with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commissions Office of the Administrative Law Judges. Coleman graduated summa cum laude from Millersville University, where he majored in Government, Policy, and Law.
