OVERVIEW

Cora Cheng is a trainee solicitor. Prior to joining the firm, Cora gained experience at international law firms in Hong Kong, where she assisted on commercial litigation, international arbitration, and corporate matters. Her work involved issues relating to cross-border disputes, aviation, and data privacy, with experience in drafting dispute-related documents and supporting transaction teams on document review. She has also assisted with matters involving complex procedural and conflicts-of-law issues in both litigation and arbitration contexts.
