OVERVIEW

Neil Campbell has been involved in finance transactions (including debt capital markets, securitisations, and syndicated lending) in Asia for many years as well as leading teams which were involved in some of the first securitisations in Korea, Hong Kong, the PRC, Indonesia, and Thailand. He represents some of the most prominent Asian arrangers and issuers on airline, shipping, and consumer receivables, as well as debt capital markets such as RMB bonds.

Neil is recognised as one of Asia's leading securitisation and structured finance lawyers and he is ranked in IFLR 1000, Chambers Asia-Pacific, Chambers Global, and The Legal 500 Asia Pacific for structured finance and securitisation. He has won several awards for his transactions, including Dynasty Assets, Indocoal, and Korean Air. Neil has advised on six of Korean Air's airline receivables securitisations to date.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Prior to joining the firm, Neil was a partner in the Hong Kong office of another U.S. law firm and was co-head of their Asia debt capital markets practice.

SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS

Neil has spoken extensively on securitisation and is a regular moderator and panelist at conferences on finance.
